Dear Parents/Carers,

Today has been an extremely hectic day and I would like to thank each and every one of you for your patience and understanding.

By now, for those that it applies to, you should have received your confirmation letters detailing if you have a Key Worker/Vulnerable learner place in school. We have also sent out information regarding FSM to those that will qualify to access this provision. We are looking forward to welcoming you to school tomorrow. Please follow the same routines that were in place before we broke for Christmas as well as the same times at the start and end of the day. There are no changes to this!

On the website, I have added a new action plan which details all the procedures we shall be following during the next half term. Please do take the time to read it as it will explain all the measures we shall be continuing to follow as well as the home learning offer for children not returning to school. It can be found by following accessing the school website then following the steps below:

Parents tab > COVID-19

From next week we shall begin the google meet sessions where staff will check in with those pupils not attending school. Over the next few days, please look out for communication about this detailing when this will take place and how to access the meets.

This is a brand new way of teaching and learning for all of us. I am sure there will be some 'teething' issues along the way, but knowing we have your confidence and support really is helpful during these strange times.

Although we will not see many of the children in the same way as we did before Christmas, know that we will always be thinking of you and look forward to you sharing your work both through Google Classroom and through twitter. If we can be of any assistance during this lockdown, please do not hesitate in contacting the school through the usual means.

Once again, thank you for your support, patience and understanding. Stay safe and look after each other.

Yours sincerely
